THE HERALD OF COMPASSION

According to author Hà Huy Thanh, compassion, in principle, is the act of "understanding, sharing, and creating solutions." When put into practice, it generates an intrinsic energy that helps us "adapt" and "reconcile" circumstances. The issues faced by humanity stem from individual problems. Each of us, whether a leader or a marginalized person, has internal issues that need addressing. If we fail to recognize, acknowledge, and resolve these issues, we will either create additional problems or address the wrong ones, leading to severe consequences for both individuals and the community at large.

The journey of Compassion is a journey back to the cultural roots of each nation. The common thread among all nations, religions, and people is "Compassion." If we awaken the energy of Compassion within each person, we will cultivate a humanity centered on "Compassion." I believe that humanity will collectively embark on this journey of Compassion—a journey to rediscover the noble essence and soul of humanity. At that point, the soul of each individual will be redeemed by "Compassion." The principle of salvation here is to elevate each person's emotional vibration frequency by awakening this energy. When the energy frequency is high, we resonate with other high frequencies, which are the source of noble vibrations and positive notions. This enables each person to overcome difficulties and adversity, "adapt" and "reconcile" personal and societal circumstances, and build a prosperous, noble, and humane community.

INTRODUCTION TO THE INTERNATIONAL CENTER FOR COMPASSIONATE CULTURE (ICCC)

The ICCC is an international organization with the purpose of empowering individuals and communities to "understand, share, and create solutions" in order to "adapt and reconcile circumstances." The mission of the ICCC is to build and develop the Compassion Community—a community that practices compassion for a compassionate planet. The ICCC operates through various entities, including fund management company, NGO, and association.

COMPASSION COURSE CERTIFIED BY ICCC

LESSON 1

The Principle of Compassion

The principle of compassion involves "understanding, sharing, and creating solutions." When put into practice, it generates intrinsic energy that helps us "adapt" and "reconcile" circumstances.

LESSON 2

How to Plant the Seeds of Compassion Through Understanding

Understand yourself, understand others, and understand the circumstances.

LESSON 3

How to Nurture the Tree of Compassion Through Sharing

Acts of giving and a grateful heart help people survive and thrive. Making giving a way of life and gratitude a precious asset.

LESSON 4

How to Develop the Tree of Compassion Through Creating Solutions

The first belief we need to build is the belief in the power of the brain. The key to activating the brain's broadcasting engine is a burning aspiration.

LESSON 5

You are the herald of Compassion

In the world of Compassion, each of us lives in a space of understanding, sharing each moment together to create the miracle called solutions.
