

Gems of glaciers

by Lopez Marcos

“ I come to you with this ground-breaking collection of porcelain artworks to drive your mind into a marvellous icy world. Each porcelain creation is a gem inspired by the magnificent wonders of Antarctica.”

This porcelain artwork will immerse you in an awe-inspiring journey throughout Antarctica's icy world. Every single detail in these porcelain creations will catch your senses; a blinking white will hit your eyes while a deep blue will make your body feel the ice water. Like colossal glaciers, these porcelain creations will appear in front of you showing their hypnotic shapes. Their bending forms, intimidating cracks and frozen glaze seem to be just about to come alive.

The main achievement in the ceramic laboratory was to develop a specific porcelain and glaze, both of them able to depict those magnificent icy wonders in Antarctica. Painstaking ceramic research was necessary to create the materials that met the requirements of color, texture and high plasticity. White porcelain and frozen glaze merged with each other to become the perfect material for this Art Collection.

Artistic mastery created the most mind-blowing porcelain gems, never seen before, handcrafted with precision and patience to reach a delicately balanced composition. Every single detail is a result of a slow and deliberate artisanal work. It is filled with cracks and twisting shapes, like a harmonious composition. These porcelain gems emerged from the white-hot furnace to leave the art world speechless.

Gems of glaciers are ready to be shown!
